This year's AΓP Homecoming Celebration will feature the return of lawn display along with Iowa State Head Wrestling Coach, Kevin Dresser, who will be our guest speaker! The undergraduate members are also excited to host a meal preceding the scholarship ceremony and the lawn display skit. The lawn display is really taking shape. Can you guess what it is?! Stop by on October 27th to find out!

Hint: This year's setting is under the sea.

Agger Fries Raises for ASI & Nissly Family

Agger Fries 2018 was held on October 4th, and it was a booming success with 563 people in attendance. AΓP undergraduate members served fried oreos, fried pickles, Culver's cheese curds, and traditional agger fries. This year's cause was to raise money for Adaptive Sports Iowa and the Nissly Family. As a result of our philanthropic effort, we raised $3,500!

Didn't make it this year? No worries! Agger Fries is scheduled every year for the first Thursday in October, so put us in your calendar for next year!

First New Initiate - Alumni Dinner is Huge Success

The first New Initiate-Alumni Dinner had 40 attendees and was hosted by Barry Tlach. The new initiates enjoyed learning about the strong network of alumni that exists in Central Iowa and across the country. If you missed out on this year's dinner, take this as your informal invitation to next year's as we work to make this an annual event!

Brothers Represent CALS at ISU 4U College Night

Six undergraduate brothers represented the College of Agriculture & Life Sciences at this year's ISU 4U Program College Night. The ISU 4U Program is a partnership between two elementary schools in Des Moines and Iowa State University to promote higher education opportunities. The event was hosted at Moulton Elementary School in Des Moines and more than 300 elementary school students attended. In the coming months, brothers look forward to coordinating and implementing Ag in the Classroom activities in Des Moines elementary school kindergarten classrooms.
